

The Reign of Terror

The French Revolution

Committee of Public Safety

- The Committee of Public Safety was selected from amongst the _____
_____.
- It was given 'near _____'.
- Most believed the Committee was an unfortunate, but _____ and _____ reaction to foreign and civil war.

The Terror

- One of the most repressive laws passed by the Committee stated that anyone who, "by their _____, relations, _____ or writing show themselves to be supporters of _____ and federalism and enemies of freedom" was suspected of _____.
- The prisons were soon _____, which lead more
_____.

'Age of Reason'

- Robespierre argued that "any _____ which does not suppose the people _____, and the magistrate _____, is _____."
- This lead to an enactment that made all suspected _____ subject to the _____ penalty. Churches were _____ and public and private _____ was banned.

Nearing the End

- A _____ was reached with the celebration of the goddess of _____.
- The names of the _____ were changed, as were the counting of years.
- The Cult of the _____ officially became the religion of the Revolution.

Fall of Robespierre

- Robespierre's attempt to create a society that was _____ failed as Robespierre was overthrown on 9 Thermidor (27 July).
- "People want what is good, but they don't always see it." This was a famous quote from Rousseau. Robespierre believed it was his job to _____.

Why must we be wary of a government that seeks to remove liberty to enforce morality or a particular form of virtue?